DAVIS ENDS OHIO FUEL CONTROL DECEMBER 1

COLUMBUS, O., November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The Ohio fuel administration will cease function December 1. Governor Davis today in an official proclamation ordered the administration disbanded as of that date, declaring it had served its purpose.

The proclamation also announced that though the fuel administration will be abandoned December 1, should an emergency arise during his incumbency, the governor will immediately reappoint the fuel administrator and direct him to resume action under authority of the emergency fuel law.

The governor asserted that a steady reversion to normal conditions in the coal trade "effectually disposes of the emergency which gave rise to the necessity for protective measures in guarding the people's welfare."

The moral effect of the law alone became promptly evident in exertion of a distinct check against the consistent upward trend in coal prices, the governor declared, adding that coal prices in Ohio have been much lower than in surrounding states.

The cost of operating the department was less than $15,000, though a total appropriation of more than $100,000 had been made, the proclamation said. The governor commended Fuel Administrator Neal for his service.

"Hearty competition once more prevails and can be trusted amply to protect the citizens both in fairness of price and sufficiency of supply of fuel," the proclamation said. It also declared that all orders issued by the fuel administrator are ended and cancelled December 1.

Masked Men And Oil Workers Battle

MONROE, Louisiana, Nov. 29.—(By The Associated Press)—A number of men were wounded and several are reported dying following a battle between masked men and oil field workers near Smackover, Ark., last night, according to a long distance telephone message received from Eldorado by authorities here this morning.

Before leaving for the scene of the battle with a posse of deputies, Sheriff Ed Harper, of Camden, said all wires were cut in the Smackover region and he was without accurate information as to the number of casualties in the engagement between 200 hooded "vigilantes" and oil field workers and gamblers.

"I understand the invaders who visited towns along Smackover Creek after parading in the town of Smackover last night were members of the Ku Klux Klan," said the sheriff.

"They were at least hooded and wore white robes. Their purpose, I am sure, was not to precipitate a battle, but to clean up the oil field region. The battle, in reality, occurred at what is known as Patagonia, and after they paraded in Smackover, they started to several oil field villages in the Patagonia region, and were met with armed resistance. That part of the oil fields, is a wooded country and the battle was fought from behind trees and rocks and there are perhaps many dead, but all reports received by me are that no one was killed."

No Indictments In Hall Case

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—An investigation of the Hall-Mills murder case to be pushed along new lines, or is the inquiry to be dropped, at least for the present?

This question today apparently hung on a conference which Attorney General Thomas McCran has indicated he will hold with Special Deputy Attorney General W. A. Mott, who yesterday failed to obtain from the Somerset county grand jury in Somerset county indictment of three persons whom the state indicated it believed responsible for the shooting of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor E. Mills, approximately ten weeks ago.

Both New Brunswick and Somerset were agog with the dramatic collapse of the state's case yesterday. Persons who wish the investigation continued, pointed hopefully to the fact that Mrs. Jane Gibson, hailed by the state as its star witness, still was under close observation at her pick farm. This, they speculated, indicated that the inquiry was to be pushed further.

OWSLEY TO DELIVER MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, will deliver at eight o'clock eastern time tonight by radio a Thanksgiving Day address which is expected to be picked up by more than 1,000,000 receiving stations.

The address outlining the Legion's policies for the coming year, will be broadcast from the naval station at Annapolis on a special wave length of 425 meters and, as insurance against unfavorable conditions, will be re-broadcast by high power stations in various parts of the country on their own wave lengths. The call number will be "20F."

COLUMBUS, O., November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The dead bandit whose body was found in an abandoned automobile yesterday near West Jefferson, O. was identified today by a Cleveland man as Peter Long, of Erie, Pa. A bank book found in the dead man's clothes yesterday bore that name. Long was said to be well known to Akron, Cleveland and Erie police.

COLUMBUS, O., November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Less than twenty-four hours after four gunmen had engaged in a pistol battle with two policemen here early yesterday, killing one of the officers and wounding the other, one of the gunmen had been killed, two others captured and one of these bound over to the grand jury on a charge of first degree murder.

Before night a special grand jury called for noon today was expected to dispose of the case and establish what officials believe will be a record for swift administration of justice.

The fourth member of the bandit gang remained at large today, but posses who were searching the wooded country twenty miles southwest of the city where two of the men were taken, believed his capture was imminent.

Planned To Rob Bank

The dead gunman remains unidentified. He was known only as "Bill," his companions declared. The man held for the grand jury gave his name as Loomie C. Cummins, 26. He confessed, according to police, that he was a member of the party and that he had served a sentence in the Jefferson, Ind., penitentiary. The second man under arrest who said he was James Martin, alias "Slim" Brady, lies in a hospital wounded in the head by a bullet fired from his own gun in an attempt at suicide when he saw his capture was inevitable. All of the men, according to Cummins' confession, came here from Cleveland, and were on route to Aurora, Ind., where they planned to rob a bank. Cummins told police that all of the men formerly had been employed by a detective agency as guards at coal mines in the Pittsburgh district.

Gun Battle And Spectacular Events

The gun battle and the events which followed were fraught with the spectacular.

Patrolman Granison P. Koehler, who met death at the hands of the bandits and Corporal Roscoe C. Friddle, who was wounded, had arrested the men as they sped into the city in an automobile stolen in Cleveland. Two guns had been taken from them and a further search was being made when one of them opened fire.

How Big Is Your Vocabulary?

SALEM, Oregon, Nov. 29.—Teachers should have a vocabulary of from 1,500 to 5,000 words. This was told to a teacher's institute here by Dr. Carl G. Donney, president of Williamette University. Dr. Donney said slang was not necessary and should be eliminated.

"Differing from me, however," he added, "are many scholars who insist that slang is the life of a language."

France Not Ready To Seize Ruhr

PARIS, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The French government is not even ready to act against Germany in the event of delays in future reparations payments, the Petit Parisien says today. France, adds, the paper, has no intention of taking the slightest initiative before consulting the allies. No decision regarding methods of coercion was reached at yesterday's cabinet meeting, the newspaper says.

L'Esclair gathered similar information from the "highest personality at the D'Orsay together with a denial that the cabinet approval of a plan drawn up for the occupation of the Ruhr."

LAKE NAVIGATION ENDS

CLEVELAND, O., November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Lake passenger navigation between here and Detroit ends for the season tonight when the Western States sails from here on the last trip. The Eastern States left here on her last trip last night. The boats will winter at Detroit.

According to officials of the Detroit and Cleveland Line, the season has been one of the best the line had experienced in passenger traffic and in freight and automobiles carried.

THANKSGIVING WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Thanksgiving weather will be generally fair east of the Mississippi river except for probable local snows along the Canadian border from the lower lakes eastward, according to today's forecast of the weather bureau. It is in temperature tonight and tomorrow in most of the region east of the Mississippi also is predicted. Much colder weather is reported, the bureau said, in the northwest, while in the upper Mississippi valley, upper lake region in the southwest the weather is becoming warmer.

Gas Caused Death Of Six

COLUMBUS, November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Irving E. Henderson, his wife Florence and their four children, whose bodies were found in their home at Lancaster, died as the result of carbon monoxide gas, from a defective stove, and were not poisoned, as was first believed, State Chemists reported here today, following an analysis of the viscera of the adult Hendersons.

The chemists' report was made public today by Dr. H. H. Solvely, state director of public health.

Bodies of the Henderson family were found strewn around their home in West Lancaster, when anxious neighbors broke into the house a week ago today.

Lancaster officials had been holding to a theory that the entire family was poisoned by the mother in a fit of mental depression, caused by fancied ills.

MAYOR OF DETROIT NAMED SENATOR

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 29.—(By the A. P.)—Mayor James Couzens of Detroit today was appointed by Governor Alex C. Greenback as United States senator from Michigan to fill the unexpired term of former senator Truman H. Newberry, who resigned recently.

Mayor Couzens has accepted the appointment, the governor announced. The notification of his appointment has been forwarded to Mr. Couzens at the hotel Belmont in New York city. The appointee is in New York to spend Thanksgiving Day with his daughter a college student.

The governor announced Mr. Couzens who has gained nation-wide prominence through his municipal railway venture would take his seat in the senate as soon as his Detroit affairs could be arranged.

Announcement of the appointment followed a week's survey of the more than half a hundred candidates.

"Mr. Couzens becomes senator with not a single string attached," the governor said. "He made no promises. I exacted none."

"Mr. Couzens will have my earnest co-operation and support in whatever he undertakes at Washington for the best interests of this commonwealth. If at any time he should ask my advice or assistance, it will be given freely and gladly. He is at liberty to take it or refuse it."

"Arguments against the appointment of Mr. Couzens on the ground that he should not be taken from Detroit mayoralty because he has not had sufficient time to develop the municipal street railroad program which he inaugurated, were met with this statement by Governor Goresbeck:

"If municipal ownership of its street railways is a good thing for Detroit under Mr. Couzens' direction, it should be a good thing under any other able man. I consider the objection that Mr. Couzens is too valuable a man for Detroit to lose at this time is a strong reason why his usefulness as a public servant should be extended to all Michigan."

Appointment of the Detroit mayor to the senatorship is seen in political circles as definitely exploding the belief previously advanced in some quarters that the governor himself would be a candidate for the senate for the full term at the 1924 general election. Mr. Couzens it is generally accepted here, will be a candidate for the full term.

Three Killed In Explosion Of Big Still

PHILADELPHIA, November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Three men are dead as a result of the explosion of a 100 gallon still in a stable here last night. One man was instantly killed and the other two died in hospitals today. Two of the six injured are reported in a serious condition. The dead are: John Kozels, Benjamin Waxman and an unidentified man believed by the police to have been E. Miller, who recently rented the place. The last named man was instantly killed.

The blast wrecked the neighborhood and broke window glass in many of the nearby houses.

A partially loaded motor truck was standing in the building when fire arrived. It was a mass of flames and muffled explosions were coming from containers that held an aggregate of about 500 gallons of moonshine. The truck was dragged to the street and the flames extinguished. Government agents investigating the explosion expect to make arrests today.

Britain Wants Other Nations To Sink Ships

LONDON, November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain will scrap no more warships under the Washington disarmament treaty until the other nations have taken action and scrapped their quota, according to the assurance given a questioner in the house of commons today by Eric Menzies, financial secretary to the admiralty.

Asked who had ratified the treaty Commander Mousell replied:

"The treaty of Washington has been ratified by the United States, Japan and this country, but not yet by France or Italy."

"Eight British capital ships rendered useless for war purposes," he added, "already have been sold to and removed to ship breaking firms for breaking up."

Six more have been rendered incapable of war risk service and two more will have been similarly dealt with by the end of next month.

"So far as is known, the United States and Japan have not disposed of ships except those obsolete ships that have been disposed of in ordinary course."

Famous Smithy Faces Demolition

CARLSLE, Scotland, Nov. 29.—(By the A. P.)—The famous Smithy at Gretna Green, famous for its past connection with runaway marriages, is threatened with demolition by the local utilitarian council at Auman which has decreed that the building is a dangerous obstruction to the increasing motor traffic in Dumfriesshire.

The present occupant of the Smithy, Hugh Macklin, is opposing the decree. Although he says he has been offered a large sum of money in compensation he declares that he cannot be tempted and that his Smithy is a necessity. The council is reported as willing to compromise, allowing the Smithy itself to stand if Macklin's adjoining dwelling is removed, but he will yield nothing.

Up to 1836 Gretna Green and its Smithy were the scenes of many informal "marriages across the border" but in that year these ceremonies were declared illegal. However, weddings still occasionally take place in the Smithy according to the revised laws, when the principals desire a romantic setting for their ceremony.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Harry Lammers, Ottawa, Ohio, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Killits in United States District Court here today after being found guilty of charges of interfering with federal prohibition agents. Testimony indicated that she pushed a prohibition officer down a stairway while he was attempting to raid her home.

DEMANDS HEAVIER SENTENCES BY COURTS

WASHINGTON, November 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Attention of federal authorities throughout the country has been officially called to the necessity of co-operating closely with prohibition enforcement agencies with a view to curbing the extensive violations of the statutes.

Federal attorneys have been instructed to push all pending liquor cases and to suggest, when proper, the imposition of the heaviest penalties on conviction. Their attention was specifically called to reports that some cereal beverage manufacturers were marketing a product of illegal alcoholic content.

No suggestion was made in the official instructions that the prohibition enforcement machinery had failed to adequately handle its tasks. The order to federal attorneys on the contrary was said to have been drawn with a view to enlisting their cooperation in a campaign to insure general respect for all laws.

It has long been the conviction of some government officials that the danger to be faced in liquor violations was the certainty that they would engender in an element of the population a lack of respect for other laws and might lead eventually to a noticeable decay in the country's morale.

Among the suggestions as to methods of co-operation, federal attorneys were instructed to expedite all liquor cases on their dockets and were advised as to the best procedure in certain classes of cases. Joint action with local authorities was urged.

Sent To All Federal Attorneys

The circular order sent by Attorney General Daugherty to all United States attorneys follows:

"You are requested to give immediate attention to the condition of the enforcement of prohibition laws in your district, to analyze its problems, to examine the condition of your docket in respect thereto, and to report to the department any suggestions you may have to make enforcement more effective."

"I urge upon you the necessity of adopting every means for clearing the docket and pushing prohibition cases to an early trial."

Wants Stiffer Sentences

"Where possible and to whatever extent you can with propriety do so, we desire that you urge the court to give more severe sentences to violators of the liquor laws."

"Your attention is invited to the injunction features of the national prohibition act. Nuisance proceedings have been found to be an effective means of control and more frequent resort to them is desired. This department is ready, as it always has been, to assist you by furnishing forms of briefs of authorities for instituting this practice in your district."

Sending Criminal Information

"We are sending to United States attorneys in districts where breweries are located, criminal information and bills for injunction for proceedings against individuals and companies unlawfully manufacturing cereal beverages. We desire that these be filed and tried promptly. The need for this is especially apparent in injunction proceedings as the court may be reluctant to grant restraining orders if the evidence shows the nuisance to have been committed at a remote period."

THANKSGIVING DAY AT ALL SAINTS'

The first service at All Saints' Church on Thanksgiving Day, which is also the feast of St. Andrew the Apostle, will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:00 a. m. It is hoped that a large number of communicants will attend this service. No more appropriate means of registering our gratitude to God for all His goodness could be devised than attendance at the Eucharist, which is literally "the giving of thanks." This early service will give those who cannot attend the later one a chance to observe the day. The second service will be at 10:00 a. m. The pastor will deliver a five minute address. There will be appropriate prayers and music. The whole service will not last over one hour. Make your Thanksgiving Day real by coming to your church tomorrow. As in previous years the offering at the latter service will be given to that splendid institution, the Home for Aged Women in this city.

Famous Hunter Addresses Kiwanians

With an attendance that was hovering near the 100 per cent mark, Kiwanians gathered at the Mary Louise building in their noon day luncheon and listened to an address by "Uncle" Smith, noted hunter of wild game, who has spent more than twenty years of his life in the great outdoors. The address of Mr. Smith was one of the most interesting and thrilling narratives to which Kiwanians had been privileged to listen. In the plainest of language, the noted hunter told of his thrilling experiences, dealing particularly with his many expeditions in quest of sea lions. He depicted their habits in a manner that no one could possibly glean from the study of history and any Kiwanian can now tell all about this animal and the fights he has for existence and supremacy. Mr. Smith also told of his life among the Indians—how he was adopted by an old chief and how he bid his father his last farewell.

Appointment Of Pool Room Owner As Postmaster By Kearns Stirs Rumpus

The Cincinnati Enquirer today carried the following:
GREENFIELD, Ohio, November 28.—Mails are freighted and telephone wires are burdened with the Greenfield Postoffice quarrel, which now has reached an acute stage. Appointment of John T. Daniels, poolroom owner, for the position of Postmaster has caused all the trouble.
Protests have been sent to Washington, particularly to Senator Frank B. Willis, and an effort will be made to have Mr. Willis hold up confirmation on the ground that the appointee is distasteful to Women's Christian Temperance Union workers, as well as to other citizens.
Back of the postoffice fight is a story of one of the largest contributions sent from Ohio to the Republican national organization. This city is the home of E. L. McClain, wealthy manufacturer. When Mr. McClain gave his fund to help the Republican ticket it was reported that he had an agreement with powerful influences to have a say as to the new Postmaster. Mr. McClain, it is said, desired no other governmental favors, not even a higher tariff on his manufactured articles.
Now it appears that he has been slighted, and this phase of the situation is attracting attention in Highland County, which gave huge Republican majorities this year on every candidate except Governor.
W. C. T. U. bees also are busy buzzing about the head of Congressman Charles C. Kearns, who recommended Daniels. One of the strong issues Kearns made in his campaign was that he should be elected over the Democratic candidate for Congress, W. N. Gableman, because Gableman formerly operated a poolroom. When Kearns suggested Daniels and Daniels turned out to be a poolroom proprietor, Highland County prohibition workers assailed his consistency. They pointed out that he had carried the county by 3,000 majority on the poolroom issue only a few days before he recommended Daniels.
Another charge with reference to Daniels is that he kept his place of business open when funeral services were conducted for four members of the Rainbow Division who lost their lives in France. It is recalled that every other business activity was suspended in Greenfield and that the excoriated were attended by thousands. It is alleged that Daniels refused to pay respect to the soldier dead.
Manipulation of civil service examination results also is hinted in the protests. The man who is desired by nearly all patrons of the place is Joseph E. Walker, who finished first. Walker now is Assistant Postmaster. It is said that when the original civil service examination grades were obtained they stood: Walker, first; John B. Elliott, second; and Edward F. Haffler, third. Daniels was fourth. The original list, it is said, still is in existence, but a new list was forthcoming, bringing Daniels within the list of eligibles.

poisoning was responsible for the deaths under investigation.

Summary of Reports

The reports of Dr. Hayhurst and Dysart are summed up as follows:
1. Failure to make provision for ventilation of a small, tightly constructed house in which three small rooms were occupied by six persons consisting of two adults and four children combined with
2. The breath of carbon monoxide gas and other products of incomplete combustion by a two-burner gas plate used for cooking and possibly also heating purposes, and probably also produced by an improperly operating gas heating stove with clay "candle" representing one of the cheaper varieties which is extensively advertised to the public at the present time.
3. An element of fear of an outside enemy served to distract the husband and wife's attention from the ventilating and heating hazards present and caused them to lock up windows and doors with unusual precautions on the night in question. This fear was induced because of alleged labor threats against the husband.

fire and Koehler fell mortally wounded. One of the bullets also struck Friddle in the jaw and he fell to the ground as the automobile sped away. Lying in the street, Friddle emptied the two pistols taken from the bandits and his own, thirteen bullets striking the machine. It was these which caused the death of one of the quartet.

Hunted By Aid of Searchlights
Taking up the chase, police and county officials found the gunmen's machine abandoned west of the city and containing the body of the dead man. Hearing that the men had been seen some miles away, they commandeered a Pennsylvania engine and traveling on this and a handcar, located the men in an old farm house. A fusillade of shots drove them from the house and Cummins was captured, the other two escaping.

The hunt continued. Officials from four surrounding counties and armed citizens aiding the police. At nightfall torches and large searchlights belonging to the Columbus fire department were brought into play and Martin was taken after he had attempted to end his life. Poses were at work throughout the night and today believed they had thrown a net around the remaining member of the gang.

Plan Quick Justice
Action of the city officials in arraigning Cummins last night was a continuation of their policy of dealing promptly with bandits, they declared. While Cummins was confessing to Police Chief French, Municipal Judge Ruth was called to police headquarters and when Cummins' statement had been taken he was taken before the court, offered a plea of not guilty and was bound over.

Immediate steps were taken to have the jury ready today and it was announced should the jury return an indictment, the case would be taken before the county courts within a few days. Similar action has been taken in the past with bank bandits.

A Mystery Car
While concentrating on the capture of the fourth man, police today were investigating the finding of an abandoned automobile near the outskirts of the city. The car, it was said, tallied with the description of one which was seen yesterday shortly after the shooting and which escaped police when they attempted to halt it and question its occupants. There was no direct indication, they said, that the incident had any connection with the shooting.

Says He's The Goat
Cummins, according to Chief French declared that Martin, alias Brady, was the leader of the gang. Martin, on the other hand, according to French, before being sent to the hospital for an operation asserted that he had been made "the goat." Asked if he had any word to send to relatives before going on the operating table, Chief French said Martin replied: "Send them word to meet me in hell. There's where I belong."

Martin said he had no relatives. Cummins said they had picked up "Big Bill," the bandit who was killed, on West 25th Street, Cleveland. Scars on "Big Bill's" right leg indicate that he had at one time suffered a compound fracture of that limb, resulting in it being about one inch shorter than the left.

Reporters Find Bandit
Martin was discovered first by an automobile load of Columbus newspapermen. He was leaning against the fence along the roadside near Georgetown. Taking him to be a farmer, one of the men started to warn him and asked: "Have you seen them?" (Meaning the bandits). A motorcycle officer was coming up at this time. "Without answering," Martin placed his pistol to his head and fired. The reporters seeing him draw his pistol, thought he was going to fire at them and they dropped to the ground.

Outlaws Dine With Farmer
Martin and his pal, who is still at large, had just obtained supper at a farmer named Garber. According to Garber they said they were without money and were beating their way on a train when thrown off by the train crew. They asked the direction of various roads and the railroad, while hunkering Garber said he gave them freely, not suspecting their identity, as he had not heard of the killing of the policeman.

Three separate reports were made all reaching the same conclusion, by Fred Berry, chief of the division of laboratories; Dr. E. R. Hayhurst, consultant in the division of industrial hygiene; and Dr. N. F. Dysart, chief of the division of industrial hygiene, all of the state health department.

Chemical analysis of the viscera of the adult Hendersons and of all food found in the house failed to show traces of any poison except that carbon monoxide gas, Berry's report said, while those made by Doctors Hayhurst and Dysart chiefly on experiments made in the Henderson home with rats, guinea pigs and guinea pigs showed generation of the poisonous gas in sufficient quantities to kill two of the white rats and one of the guinea pigs.
Chief Harry said carbon monoxide was found in the blood of the older Hendersons in amounts of 20 to 65 per cent saturation. He sums up his investigation as follows: "It is our opinion, based upon the foregoing evidence that carbon monoxide widow of the slain rector was offered by her lawyer, Timothy N. Pfeiffer. He said he sincerely hoped the authorities would continue their search for the guilty.

Florence North, attorney for Charlotte Miller, daughter of the slain choir singer, contributed the cryptic remark that refusal of the grand jury to return an indictment was no surprise to her. She added that she would turn over to the authorities important evidence in her possession.
Miss North has clung to the theory that the murdered pair were kidnapped by hired assassins, killed and laid out under the old crab apple tree on the Phillips farm.

Planning To Restore B. & O. Trains

According to a telegram received by Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon there is a possibility that B. & O. passenger trains Nos. 51 and 54, discontinued several months ago on account of the railroad men's strike will be restored by December 15. The telegram received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday was from G. W. Spitzgins, general passenger agent of the B. & O. and with headquarters in Cincinnati and it was in response to a telegram sent him the day previous by President Frick asking for information as to when the restoration of the trains could be expected. Many local merchants have urged the Chamber of Commerce to seek the restoration of the trains so Christmas shoppers along the B. & O. could get into the city. The message from Mr. Spitzgins said that the company was making every effort to place its equipment in shape so that the two trains could be restored and that he hoped this would be possible by no later than December 15.

Train No. 51 arrives here at 11 a. m. from Parkersburg and brings a number of shoppers who are ready to make the return trip by the time No. 51 leaves at 2:40 for Parkersburg. There are only two passenger trains on the local branch of the B. & O. and these two Nos. 52 and 53 do not offer a service that benefits the merchants to any great extent. No. 52 leaves here at 6:40 each morning and arrives here each evening at 7:55 making it necessary for a shopper to come in on the night train and remain over for two nights for it would be impossible to get here at night at 7:55 and do their shopping so they could get away on the train the next morning.

Triumphs of M. Jonquelle

Begin Here Today

M. JONQUELLE, greatest of French detectives, is telling this unusual story of the great criminal at bay—discovered in a luxurious English country house where he is dying of a disease which has already paralyzed the lower part of his body.

But even in the moment of success, M. Jonquelle senses that he has been beaten. The great criminal, wanted for a bond theft in England, tells how he went to America and at Bar Harbor met the beautiful American girl. Although a criminal, his sense of decency was outraged when he saw that a disheveled Englishman, WESTRIDGE, was attempting to marry her for her money.

He went to Westridge, told him that he was an old friend of the girl's father and that he knows the girl must have $50,000 to save securities which she has foolishly bought on margin. The criminal tells how he produced the security for a loan which Westridge raised and then gave to him to turn over to the girl.

CHAPTER III
THE afternoon sun lay on the terrace of the gray stone house.

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful
Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't say gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

THE WOMAN OF POISE

Once a ravish, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?—Advertisement.

Itching Eczema Dried Right Up With Sulphur

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentha-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and discomfort. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Bowles Mentha-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

the tears Martin and the right choice, and it wasn't all jury duty. I didn't want that heavenly angel fouled over by little Westridge. It belted the heart out of me.

"Now, Missie, I said, 'you've got to help me even this thing up. I don't know nothing about your affairs—I don't want to know. But you've got to take that same bunch of money and chance it or something.'"

"She shook her head, and I had a bad hour. All along that, sea pith, to help me even this thing up. I kept right at her; I never lost a step. I was old and rich; money was nothing to me.

"But what should I do with the money?" she said, finally, in a sort of queer hesitation.

"I'll tell you that tonight," I answered. The huge creature seemed to relax, as though there had been a vital tension in the mere memory of the thing.

"That cleaned up my end of it," he continued, "and after dinner when it was getting a little dark, I limped over to the church. I had the last copy of the Financial Register in my hand. I stopped in the door. The church was closed and it was dark, but I didn't need any light for the business I come on."

"Governor," I said, "the rest of this job's up to you. I'm again to open this magazine here in the dark and the first thing that's advertised at the top of the page on the right-hand side is the thing I'm again to tell her to put the coin on—Ready, I says, 'go to it' and I folded back the page and went over to the hotel."

"BUT WHAT SHOULD I DO WITH THE MONEY?" SHE SAID.

Again he paused.

"I got a jolt when I saw the page. It was some sort of Canadian goldmine, so fishy that the letters had scales on 'em. But I says to myself, 'That's the Governor's business,' and I cut it out, put it into an envelope with the draft, and left it at the desk for her."

He paused.

"The next morning I said out. Eight months later the plague struck me. I crippled into England, asked her to hide me while I died, and she put me here."

"And the gold stock," I said, "I suppose it turned her out a fortune?"

"The energy came back for an instant into his voice."

"It was so rotten," he replied, "that the Governor-General of Canada summoned all the victims to meet with him for a conference in Montreal."

At this moment I caught the sound of a motor entering the gates at some distance through the park. The huge paralytic also heard it, and his attention was no longer toward me. It was on the great coach-colored limousine drawing up at the end of the avenue of ancient beech-trees.

I looked with him.

A girl helped out by footmen stepped down into the avenue, carpeted now with the yellow Autumn leaves. Even at the distance it was impossible to mistake her; her charm, her beauty, were the wonder of England. And on the instant, as in a flash of the eye, I recalled the painted picture hanging in a great house in Berkeley Square, the picture from which this creature's mutilated photograph had been taken, the picture of a young girl, in an ancient chair, with no ornament but a bit of jade on a cord about her neck.

"It's the young Duchess of Hurlingham," I said.

The big creature beside me was struggling to rise, his voice in an excited flutter.

"Sure," he said, "God Almighty didn't throw me down. When she went up to that conference in Montreal, he had young Hurlingham on the spot—fine, straight, clean youngster as ever was born. It was love her at sight; an' now—he made a great gesture as though to include something without a visible limit—"She's got all these places in England, an' all that Standard Oil money that belonged to his mother's people."

The girl, radiant as a vision, was advancing on the carpet of golden beech-leaves, and I hastened to put a final query, the thing I had given up the idea of an arrest. The man was dying.

"What did you do with the registered bonds that you got when you cracked the vault of the British Embassy in Washington the night before you went to Bar Harbor? They had Lord Dovesdale's name on them, and they could not be negotiated."

The whole sagging body of the unsteady creature strained toward the advancing vision as toward an idol. His voice reached me, stuttering as with fatigue.

"That's the stuff I put up with Westridge for the loan—go and take it away from him!"

A startling story of mystery and horror, "The Things on the Hearth," will begin in our next issue.

Bigger Recreation Program Than Ever Bigelow's Aim; Dinner Is Enjoyed

Plans for the coming season in the way of recreation were made last evening by a group of twenty Bigelow church members, who gathered at the church and enjoyed a splendid dinner at six o'clock. The banquet was served by the ladies of Mrs. J. J. Rardin's Sunday school class, and was easily one of the big features of the evening, according to the unanimous consent of all present.

At the business discussion following the dinner it was decided to put into effect a bigger recreation program than ever for Bigelow during the coming year. Everyone feels that in C. E. Stocker, the new head of this department at Bigelow the right man has been secured, and much is anticipated for the future. H. M. Baker, one of the "wheel horses" at Bigelow consented to head the drive for the necessary funds, and this will be started next Monday and continue one week. It is hoped to have twenty-two men teams in the field and that all members and friends of Bigelow will help along the work.

Recreation is now assuming its full importance at Bigelow under Mr. Stocker's direction. Gym classes have been established for high school boys and for high school girls, for high school junior boys and for high school junior girls and for the men and ladies of the church. A volleyball league is in the process of formation to consist of six teams, and a hall has been provided. The Boy Scout troop has been increased by Mr. Stocker from 18 to an enrollment of forty, which means an additional troop, will probably have to be organized soon. The recreation department has taken charge of the church bulletin and is also responsible for the entertainments each Wednesday evening in connection with All Bigelow night. Hikes are held each Saturday for the boys of the church. In short, there is something for any who wish to enjoy recreation.

Recognizing the broadening of the work, and the efficiency of Mr. Stocker, many of those who supported the movement last year already have increased their subscriptions, and it is hoped this good example will be followed. Mr. Baker wants to urge on all members and friends of Bigelow to be ready, when the solicitors call so that the securing of the necessary funds may be taken care of as expeditiously as possible.

Expect A Hundred Guests At Dedication Of The Theodore Roosevelt Game Preserve

Norma Talmadge and Wyndham Standing in "Smilin' Through."

Norma Talmadge in her Great Picture, "Smilin' Through," will be the Special Attraction at the Columbia for Thanksgiving and the two days following. Don't fail to see it is grand picture.

Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring vehicle, "Smilin' Through," is coming to the Columbia theatre tomorrow for an engagement of three days.

Advance reports state that this is the most ambitious production yet made by Norma Talmadge. It is an adaptation of Allen Langdon Martin's stage hit of the same name, in which June Cowl appeared on the speaking stage.

Appearing opposite Miss Talmadge are two leading men, Wyndham Standing and Harrison Ford, and a splendid supporting cast, including Alec B. Francis, Glenn Hunter, Grace Griswold, Miriam Battista and Eugene Lockhart.

The production deals with the romance of beautiful young Kathleen, who is left in the charge of John Carteret following the death of her Aunt Moureen. Moureen was fatally wounded by a jealous suitor on the day of her wedding to Carteret. When Carteret learns that Kathleen is in love with the son of the man who killed his bride he interprets the romance of the young people and the absorbing plot gathers dramatic momentum.

Norma, ever a great emotional actress, is said to have taken advantage of the great dramatic opportunity presented her.

The Chamber of Commerce received a letter Tuesday from J. J. Taber, director of the department of agriculture of Ohio, asking that a number of automobiles be provided for the transportation of the large number of visitors expected in this city on December 5th when the Theodore Roosevelt Game Preserve on the West Side will be dedicated with appropriate exercises in which Governor Harry Davis is expected to play a leading part.

President Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce replied to Mr. Taber's communication urging that further information be sent as to just how many out of town persons are expected here on that date so that all the machines necessary may be secured. The Portsmouth Automobile Club will be asked to secure the use of automobiles for the visitors who are expected to number close to 100. The visitors will include members of Governor Davis' cabinet, officials of the agricultural department and other state officials and Ohio sportsmen who are interested in the game refuge and reforestation plans.

The dedication of the Game Preserve is scheduled for two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon December 5th.

Turkeys Scarce; Price Soars

King Turkey has never before been so high in price as this year. In the last news that falls on the ears of prospective purchasers of turkey for the Thanksgiving Day feast.

Grocers and meat dealers report them scarce this year and the decreased supply has caused a boost in the price. Turkeys dressed are selling for 70 cents per pound and on foot from 50 to 60 cents, with the general price being 55 cents. Retailers report the birds scarce at this price, farmers and wholesalers insisting on 48 and 50 cents per pound for each turkey.

Chickens are reported more plentiful than before at this time of the year and the prices are about the same as usual. Old hens on foot are selling for 16 and 17 cents per pound and 25 cents per pound dressed. Spring chickens are selling for 25 cents per pound on foot and 35 cents per pound dressed. Rabbits, as plentiful as ever at this time of the year, are selling for 35 cents.

Hen fruit, so necessary in the pumpkin pie, is hard to get and the price is 65 cents per dozen for strictly fresh eggs. Oysters are selling for 65 and 75 cents per quart, while cranberries are plentiful at 20 cents per quart. Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and the other trimmings on the Thanksgiving table, are to be had at the usual price, with potatoes probably lower in price than in past seasons.

Britain Breaks Diplomatic Relations With Greece

ATHENS, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The British minister, F. O. Lindley, has notified the Greek government that Great Britain has broken off relations with Greece, and that he is leaving Athens.

C. H. Bentinck, British member of the member of the financial control, remains here.

Silence From Tiernans; "Bride Of A Day" Talks

HANSELL, IOWA, November 28.—(By the United Press).—Mrs. Blanche Brimmer Tiernan today gave "the shock" to her third love, Professor John Tiernan, of South Bend, Ind., "I am through with you for good," she wired her ex-suit, "and wish to have nothing further to do with you or your kind. I would not wipe my feet on you."

Prof. Tiernan was married to the Iowa widow at Crown Point, Ind., last Saturday, two days after he had secured a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, of South Bend. Nine hours later the professor's divorce was ordered vacated by Judge Montgomery at South Bend and he left his bride in Chicago and returned to what he termed his legal wife. Deserted after nine hours of honeymooning in Chicago, and tired of waiting for the South Bend professor to come to her as she said she promised, Mrs. Tiernan said she was done with him once and for all. Mrs. Tiernan refused to add another word, but her father, the Rev. Charles H. H. said she's through. She has declined to stay at home and believe herself, he said.

Tiernan Maintains Silence
SOUTH BEND, IND., Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press). The attitude of silence maintained by Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tiernan since the arrival here of Mrs. Tiernan's sister Mrs. Francis Pulaski, of Chicago was continued today. Not a single statement either over the telephone or by direct interview was issued from the Tiernan home during the day.

FORD PLANS TO ELECTRIFY D. T. & I.

ERIE, PA., Nov. 28.—Henry Ford spent four hours today at the plant of the General Electric Company studying the equipment of electric locomotives and discussing plans for the possible electrification of his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton.

Mr. Ford said there was nothing he could add at this time, to previous announcements that he was making a broad investigation to determine whether electric locomotives might increase the efficiency of his road.

Several of the General Electric Company's experts from Schenectady, attended the conference.

To Avoid Rough, Coarse, Chapped, Blotchy Skin

Most skins require constant grooming at this season to keep them from becoming unduly red, blotchy, coarse, rough or lumpy, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which plug the pores and make the complexion worse than ever.

It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercurized wax, which literally absorbs a spoiled complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring. Next morning in washing it off, you'll wash away fine, flour-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, white, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drugstore, is all you'll need. Some skins wrinkle easily in winter. There's an excellent remedy in a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered sassailla in a half pint of witch hazel. This will quickly eradicate all lines and furrows.—Advertisement.

NEW RINGS NO HELP
A large share of repair shops are still advising new rings when an owner is confronted with motor troubles. He believes it is a cure but it only temporary since in most cases the carbon has been cleaned out, valves ground, and motor generally tuned up.
It therefore seems to have overcome the ailment. It is not lasting, however.
For no matter how expensive or complicated rings are used, with or without compression guaranteed, a round ring will not fit an egg shaped hole, and if the motor cylinders are worn that is what you will have. Let us measure the cylinders to make sure they are round when having your car overhauled. No charges for measurements.

Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Resumption of short covering operations combined with better buying power on the long side resulted in a further advance in prices at the opening of today's stock market. Rail, food, tobacco, oil leather and equipment shares were in good demand, and gains of one to two points being quite common.

Chicago Petroleum was one of the strong spots, rising nearly 5 points. Standard Oil of New Jersey advanced two and Mexican Petroleum and Pan-American one each. St. Louis Southwestern common jumped three points and the preferred one, with moderate gains in Union Pacific Reading, Great Northern preferred, Central and Missouri Pacific preferred. American and Republics 70, United Retail Stores, New York Airbrake, Hamilton, Corn Products, American International Corporation, Stromberg-Carlson, U. S. Rubber preferred, Central Leather preferred, American Ice, and American Can were up one to two points. Foreign exchanges opened irregular. Speculative operations leaned toward the buying, side during the morning, but the advance was impeded at intervals by the weakness of special stocks. Heavy liquidation of the Erie which drove the common down 1 3/4, the first preferred 3/4, and the second preferred 2 1/2 induced selling of some of the other low priced rails, especially New Haven, Baltimore and Ohio and Wheeling and Lake Erie common. Express shares also were actively weak, Adams Express falling five points and American and Wells Fargo one to two. Highly Wiggly dropped 3/4. Selling of these issues modified some of the early gains but several shares continued to force upward, particularly General Asphalt which rose to 4 3/4, up 2 1/2. Call money opened firm at 4 1/2 per cent.

Prices continued their upward course in today's stock market, increasing activity of industrial plants and more favorable dividend news fueling sentiment. Weakness of Erie Railroad shares which followed speculative reports, later officially denied that the road was facing financial difficulties, temporarily limited the upward movement around midday. The rally was resumed later however, under the impetus of a brisk demand for high grade stocks. Sales aggregated $60,000,000 shares. The closing was strong.

Chicago Grain And Provision

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Fresh optimism in values in wheat took place today during early dealings, unfavorable harvesting conditions in Argentina being reported and the Liverpool market showing further gains. Besides the export business by way of the canal, the domestic winter crop outlook had been helped by recent rains the acreage was likely to prove the smallest since 1916 and the condition remained low in the December government report. The opening which ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 higher with May 1.16 1/2 to 1.16 3/4 and July 1.07 1/2 to 1.08 was followed by material further gains.

Corn and oats sympathized with the wheat advance. After opening unchanged to 1/2 higher May 70 1/2 and the corn market sagged a little and then scored a moderate general advance.

The close was firm 3/4 to 1 1/2 net higher with May 1.17 1/2 to 1.17 3/4 and July 1.08 1/2 to 1.09.

The close was unsettled 1/2 to 3/4 net higher with May 70 1/2 to 71.

Letters From Our Readers

President Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce gave out the following today as the copy of a letter he sent to A. E. Everett several days ago in reply to his letter carried in the Sunday Sun-Times relative to the Chamber of Commerce and its work:

My Dear Mr. Everett:—

While it can not be said that it was especially pleasing to read your letter in The Times, yet I was glad to know just how you were viewing community activities.

In the matter of time: Call at the Gilbert Grocery Company and inquire for W. M. Briggs, President, and he will not doubt turn into a worth while subject that which, to you, seems so ridiculous.

This county has long since wanted a new Court House, bridge and hotel. As you say, much money has been spent by the Chamber of Commerce, that's true, but neither of which had been accomplished.

The Court House is on the way. I have secured that. I have some very splendid prospects for the bridge and if you will just help a little we will get the hotel which seems just as promising, and with your further assistance we will get the many other things you have advanced. That's all it takes co-operation—not objecting—and we will get much that is needed. Upon this we are agreed.

Call upon Mr. Albert Martin and inquire who it was that advanced the idea of a pageant and ask whether my help was worth while in the most splendid accomplishment.

Call upon Mr. B. H. Dillon and make inquiry who it is that has spent days and nights trying to carry out a moral agreement with the city and the Whitaker-Glessner company that houses for Rod Mill employees may be acquired, ask whether my efforts were worth while.

The Chamber of Commerce collected near $35,000.00 and spent in excess of $84,000.00 in 1920; $25,000.00 and spent $24,000.00 in 1921 leaving a balance of some $700.00. This year we have collected $15,000.00 and have better than $8,000.00 of your money on interest. This must be credited to sound policies and straight thinking upon the part of the directors and myself. The former years were not under our direction.

Personally, I have served your Chamber of Commerce this year in the capacity of its president entirely.

ADAM FRICK.

THEATRICAL

"Up In Mabel's Room" at the Sun Tomorrow. The Jack Ball Stock company will present "Up In Mabel's Room" the rollicking farce comedy first produced by Al H. Woods, for three days at the Sun theater. New York and Chicago theatergoers enlarged Mr. Woods' bank account several thousands of dollars, by filling theaters in the above cities where this comedy ran. It was also presented with unprecedented success in almost every city in the country. Portsmouth has never been fortunate enough to get the attraction, until the Ball Stock company came to the Sun theater. "Up In Mabel's Room" has no rivals as a laugh provoking play. None since or before its presentation have come up to the mark set by this well known farce comedy. The Ball company has been complimented time and again at the excellent and artistic performance given. The story concerns a harmless little girl named Mabel, the frantic efforts of her to return to the simplicity of her associates in their efforts to assist Garry, all tend to the endless fun, found in the most side-splitting, roaring comedy triumph of the American public in years. The advance sales for this attraction indicate capacity audiences at each performance. Seats now selling for all performances.

Jacob Lauerman

Death at 11:15 o'clock Tuesday night claimed Jacob Lauerman, the final summons coming at his home, 725 Seventh street. Mr. Lauerman had been ailing for about three years, but had been in a serious condition and had only a couple of days. Death was due to locomotor ataxia and uremic poisoning.

Jacob Lauerman was a native of Pike county, being well known in the Waverly and "Picketon" communities where he spent his early life. He had spent many years of his life in Portsmouth. For more than twenty years he worked as miller at the Imperial rolling mill on Fourth street, near Market. Mr. Lauerman was 58 years of age when he died.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Carrie Lauerman, and two brothers and four sisters. His brother, John Lauerman, formerly a barber in Waverly, is now located in Columbus. He also leaves a legion of friends here who will be shocked to hear of his death.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home, Saturday at 1:30 o'clock, with burial in Picketon cemetery. The last rites will be conducted by Rev. G. Monroe Howerton, of the Central Presbyterian church.

Boils Quit Quick!

S. S. S. Will Prove to You in Your Own Case the "What" and "Why" of its Remarkable Blood-Cleansing Power!

There is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils.

Because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. blood-purifier, it builds red-blood cells. That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It always wins! It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It builds nerve-power, thinking power, the light-dated power that while a man up to success. It gives women the health, the angelic complexion and the charm that moves the world! These are the reasons that have made S. S. S. today the great blood-cleanser, body-builder, nerve-builder, and it's why results have made tears of joy flow from the souls of thousands! Mr. W. D. Schaff, 557 15th St., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it!"

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

Minister Fined On Speeding Charge

Fined the sum of $10 and costs in Municipal Court yesterday under his plea of guilty to violating the traffic regulations by speeding. Rev. E. H. Dalley, pastor of the First United Brethren Church, refused to allow Judge McCall to suspend the penalty and promptly wrote out a check for $16.40 in payment of the fine and costs.

In admitting guilt, Rev. Dalley told the court he had no intention to violate the law and explained the circumstances under which the offense was committed. He said that soon after special resper services had been started at the U. B. Church Sunday afternoon the discovery was made that some of the music had been left at his home. He promptly delegated himself to go after it and hopping into his car went to his home so as not to detain the congregation. It was while on the return trip that he was speeding faster than he should and was trailed to the church by Traffic Officer Stanley Schroeder, who testified that Rev. Dalley was traveling more than 36 miles an hour over 15th Street, Walter to Chillicothe.

Officer Schroeder, stated that after he had ordered Rev. Dalley to proceed to police headquarters that Miss Edna Strelch of Sixth Street, upon learning of Rev. Dalley's arrest came out of the church and insisted that the minister had good grounds for speeding which resulted in her appearance in court to meet a charge of interference with an officer in the performance of duty.

Miss Strelch denied that she had in any way interfered with the officer, declaring that she merely went outside the church to explain to the officer why Rev. Dalley had speeded his machine, because of the missing music and the situation at the church.

After hearing her story, Judge McCall dismissed the complaint because the facts did not support the offense charged.

The following statement concerning the affair was made today by Rev. Dalley:

"I am not an habitual law breaker, neither have I reached the perfection of a Saint. I resent lawlessness and wish to encourage every legitimate means of properly enforcing both moral and civil law. Moral law is no respecter of persons and respect for position or profession is no excuse for waving the penalty attached to the civil code. When I disregard a moral law I fully expect to suffer the consequences. Why then should I expect to escape the penalty of a broken civil law?"

"But there is another angle to this case and in this paragraph I wish to point out the inconsistent manner in which the charge was finally carried into the Municipal court. Miss Strelch rightly denied that she had in any way interfered with the officer, and Judge McCall is to be commended for dismissing the complaint for the facts absolutely do not support the offense charged. According to the officer's own testimony before the court he had already performed

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenhur, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenhur with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. CURTAIN FALLS ON P. H. S. SEASON TOMORROW WITH AQUINAS HI AS REAL OPPONENTS

Game To Be Staged On The Sixteenth Street Gridiron

Thursday afternoon on the Sixteenth street gridiron the annual Thanksgiving Day high school battle will be staged between the Aquinas high school eleven and Portsmouth high warriors, the big game to begin at 2:30 sharp.

The Red and Blue defenders were put through a stiff workout, Monday and Tuesday by Coach Deles and the local gridlers are in top shape. Yesterday afternoon it became known that several of the players who had been getting into the game would be ineligible for the Turkey Day game on account of low studies. The ineligibility list contains the names of about four players who might have broken into the big game had they kept up in their studies. The loss of these players is not causing Coach Deles much worry as he has well-detailed subs ready to fill in the places to be vacated by the players who have worked hard until this last week when they became a little lax in their studies. The list at present contains the name of only one regular who played on the line and it will be easy to fill his place, judging from the way the subs have been showing up the last couple of weeks.

The Turkey Day battle is always the big game of the season and it is too bad that the players who are ineligible will not get into the fray tomorrow afternoon.

Maun, Barklow and W. Moore will be found on the half back position, with Elissor at quarter. Other halves on the bench will be Shields and Goss with Moritz ready for any position should he be called upon. Manning and Monk will be the ends with Armstrong and Phillips the tackles and Callahan the center. The guard positions are still undecided upon. Aquinas high comes with a mighty fine record and it will be a big feather in the caps of the locals should they turn the trick of handing them a defeat or even holding them to a tie.

There will be a number of high school students circulating through the crowd to sell tickets for 50 cents and it is hoped that many will be disposed of tomorrow as the team is put to a big expense in bringing the Columbus eleven here.

SELECTS BOOSTED BY C. OF C.

To Citizens Appreciating Prize Winner Athletes.

Even there be those that have little concern in matters other than in which our thoughts are actively engaged, we are all without doubt interested in "Winners" when contesting or indulging in any honest and worth while endeavor even though it be athletics.

Since athletics are considered necessary to the days of physical development, it is my pleasure to point with pride to one association in our City that has won both fame for themselves and the City while engaged in exercises over the State and adjoining communities where basketball has been accepted as a part of seasonal indoor activities.

The Selects, managed by Julius M. Deussen coached by Harry Wagner, and whose physical condition is attested by Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait, have won for themselves the following record in contests with the largest teams, including those of the Capital City: Beginning with the season 1918 they won eight and lost one; in 1919 they won 14 and lost one; in 1920 the record stood 24 games won and one lost; again the next year they carried 18 games and lost two and in the present year of 1922, so far, have won 18 games and lost but one. This is an achievement to be envied and should not be lost sight of by our citizens.

The record of the young men making up this Select Basketball team is without criticism, absolutely clean in character and manifestly fair in their action and win by the application of honest methods pleasantly applied.

You know that all such are required to leave the City in carrying out their engagements and necessarily encounter quite an expense and which is often just a bit difficult to negotiate. Therefore, they have resented that they be encouraged in meeting an expense that is a part of their seasonal needs, and now purpose to sell tickets for certain engagements and I am asking that there be a support given them that they may place about seven hundred tickets among local people and which will carry the work throughout the season and is most certain to bring again additional credit to Portsmouth and an advertisement worth while. It is my pleasure therefore, to bring to your attention this most splendid cause and suggest that you encourage the clean sport these young men are intensely interested in, which has the moral support of the Chamber of Commerce.

Very respectfully,
ADAM FRICK, President,
The Chamber of Commerce,
November 28th, 1922.

All P. H. S. Players Will Cross Goal Line When Banqueted By Exchangeites Tuesday

All plans were reported virtually completed at last night's meeting of the Exchange club for the banquet which will be tendered the football squad of the Portsmouth High School next Tuesday evening. It is expected that at least forty, comprising the football squad and officials, will be the guests of the club at a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. It is hoped to make the evening an enjoyable one for the members of the squad, and to let them know that the Exchange club is back of the clean, high class brand of sportsmanship represented by the football players. Members of the club reported that they had assisted in making the Red Cross drive a success.

The meeting was presided over by President W. H. Harsula and F. D. Rawson acted as secretary in the absence of Heron Johnson.

Many Teams Built Up Powerful Offense

NEW YORK, November 29. (By the Associated Press).—The 1922 gridiron season, which comes to an end this week with the few collegiate contests scheduled Thanksgiving Day and Saturday will go down in the annals of the game not only as remarkable for its spectacular upsets in form, but also outstanding in unusual scoring achievements and incidents.

Review of the scoring records including last Saturday's games, discloses that 83 colleges, representative of play in all parts of the country, scored exactly 11,000 points in 592 contests, an average of approximately 133 points per team and 19 points per game.

California's eleven stands out as the highest powered scoring machine in the group. The bears ran up 398 points, with only 34 tallied against them.

Auburn in the south, showed the highest total 277; Cornell in the east with 230, while Centre with 234 and Nebraska with 252 were leaders in the middle-west.

Michigan and Notre Dame permitted the fewest points scored against any team on the list, 13, the Wolverines allowing two touchdowns, while the Hoosiers held opponents to one touchdown and two field goals. Colgate foiled up the highest single game tally when the Maroon buried Susquehanna 57 to 0. Georgia swamped New Berry 82 to 13 and California overwhelmed the Mare Island Marines 80 to 0.

Standing out brilliantly in the list of individual performances was that of Covington, crack Centre college quarterback who created a new drizzling record by booting six between the bars against Louisville on October 28.

Individual scoring records in the east, including last Saturday's games, showed Brunner, veteran Lafayette fullback with 86 points, 13 more than his nearest rivals, Wilson of Penn State, and Robertson of Carnegie Tech.

Hanson, Cornell tackle, proved the most adept at kicking extra points with 30 successful tries, while McBride of Syracuse, and Rodrick of Columbia led the field goal scorers with three each.

STATEN A BEARCAT AT O. W. U.

George Staten, 1416 Ninth street, who holds a seat in the Hall of Fame by virtue of his brilliant 100-yard run for a touchdown when his school, Ohio Wesleyan University, defeated Wittenberg three weeks ago, ended his second season at half-back for the Sulphur Spring school last Saturday. Staten has been kept out of several games on account of injuries, but whenever he played, those in the grandstands started looking for sensational runs and they haven't been disappointed this season. Ohio Wesleyan now has a clear claim to the title of champions of the Ohio Conference this year since the defeat of Delmonico last Saturday at the hands of the Wesleyan warriors. Staten has another year to play and next year he hopes to be again one of the eggs in the machine that can defeat the best the Ohio Conference can offer.

To Pass Up Ohio Elevens

The Huntington Herald Dispatch says:

"Huntington people, as well as high school students will be glad to hear that the athletic association will have a more comprehensive football schedule next year in which more state teams will be represented.

"Word has gone out from the high school that all or most of the Ohio teams will be dropped from the schedule for 1923. The 1922 schedule shows that four Ohio teams were met and one Kentucky team, while but four West Virginia teams were played. It is the intention of the athletic scheduling committee to have some of the upstate teams to appear here next year. Some of the ones that are under consideration are Buckhannon, Weston, Elkins, Hutton, Beckley and Fairmont. While no definite announcements have been made as regards to just who will fill the schedule for 1923, it is generally thought that most of the Red and Blue game will be played on the home lot. It is thought that the only two outside games will be with Charleston and Ashland, Ky.

"Huntington's home schedule will perhaps be the best one that the city has seen in years. The most prominent teams that will make their appearance here in 1923 will be Parkersburg and Clarksburg. Parkersburg especially is a fine drawing card, last year over 5,000 people attending their annual game with Huntington high here. Clarksburg will also bring out a good crowd as the team is coached by a Huntington high graduate, Clay Hite."

May Play Sunday

The game between the Smoke House eleven of Portsmouth and Smoke Shop Strollers of New Boston is a sure go, the exact date of the battle will be decided upon tomorrow. In all probability the game will be played on Sunday, December 3.

A Post Mortem

The five whom Wittenberg loses, all of them valuable players, are Captain Repp, center; Mack Hummon right end; William Farmer, left end; Carl Weidenmier, guard, and John Heberling, right half.

Probably the outstanding stars of the quintet, the men whom Coach Godfrey will have most difficulty in replacing are Captain Repp, Hummon and Heberling. All three have been mainstays of the Lutheran team for the past three years.

Championship Game

The Huntington and Clarksburg, W. Va. hi teams played in Clarksburg Wednesday afternoon and the agonistic football championship of West Virginia was at stake.

BELIEVE BLOW McHENRY RECEIVED OVER TEMPLE EVENTUALLY CAUSED HIS DEATH

Turkey Day Football Menu

COLUMBUS, Nov. 29.—With the championship race of the Ohio conference already completed, Thanksgiving Day football games will have little effect other than to settle old scores between schools of traditional rivalry. Five contests will be played, four of them between Ohio conference teams and the fifth in which a conference team will oppose a non-member.

Miami goes to Cincinnati for the annual game with the University of Cincinnati eleven, with the chances of victory apparently resting with the Oxford team which has established a reputation as one of the hardest fighting aggregations in the state.

Reserve and Case, two conference all-stars, will battle in Cleveland as they have for years. Little choice is apparent between the two teams.

Ohio Northern will meet Wittenberg at Springfield with the advantage apparently resting with Wittenberg and Mt. Union, playing Hiram at Hiram was regarded as a practically certain winner.

Marietta will be the scene of what is expected to be a bitterly fought contest between Ohio University and Marietta college, the latter not a conference member. Little basis for comparison of the work of the two teams has been afforded, but the intense rivalry between the two institutions was expected to furnish a repetition of the battles the teams have furnished in the past.

Turkey Dinner

A Thanksgiving turkey dinner will be served at the Pindley Street M. E. Church tomorrow. Proceeds for the benefit of the church. Men ticket, 50 cents. Refreshments, too. Eat at the corner of Thirteenth and Pindley streets Thursday.

Scout Billy Doyle, who was deeply grieved to learn of the passing of Austin McHenry, believes his death may directly be attributed to a blow the St. Louis outfielder received on his left temple the result of being hit by a pitched ball while playing with the Peoria team.

Doyle was in the grandstand when "Mack" was felled by his tracks by the pitched ball. After a short rest he was able to continue in the game and as the soreness of the injury wore away McHenry apparently was not badly hurt.

This blow was received in 1916, and six years later McHenry began to feel a sore spot over his left temple, where he was hit by the pitched ball. It gradually became more acute and finally began to affect his eyesight. Then it was that "Mack" realized that the injury had not entirely cleared up and instead of yielding to treatment it slowly became worse, developed into a tumor, which subsequently terminated in his death Monday at his home in Adams county.

McHenry was the picture of health just before he was operated upon, and had no fears of the knife. His injury seemed to affect his eyes and had he not been operated upon, the tumor would have subsequently produced paralysis and blindness. McHenry knew this and readily agreed to go under the knife.

There seems to be no question but what the fatal tumor resulted from the blow he received over the temple six years ago which cut short a diamond career that shone with unusual brilliancy.

Team To Practice
The Smoke House Juniors will practice again tomorrow evening on the Industrial League lot. All members are urged to be present at 6:30 as this scrimmage is a most important one. The Juniors will play Greenup here next Sunday and from all indications this game will be one of the most hotly contested of the season. Every man be out at this time.

Tut To Retire

Now comes the story that Tut Jackson, who a year ago was hailed as a real heavyweight, is to retire. Since he has been going up against real fighters he has been knocked out twice. Jackson, it seems, is a pugilistic flivver.

THE SEVEN STONES

WE are in the morning hour of renaissance. That golden phrase is from the lips of Glenn Frank, editor of Century magazine, and it was uttered in a recent address before the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

No futile and shallow-minded preacher of optimism is this editor. He sees the blackness of the night the world is in, and he does not lie about it. But he sees, too, the promise of the dawn.

On seven stones, he believes, the future of civilization can be securely laid. And he tersely describes them as follows:

1. Cultural nationalism.
2. Economic internationalism.
3. Rationalized politics.
4. Democratized industry.
5. Humanized education.
6. Socialized religion.
7. A well-bred race.

Perhaps this is the Moses who will lead us out of our wilderness. At all events, he is clearly thinking about the world's troubles. We need such thinkers.

YOU DO IT, DOC

DON'T talk baby talk to your baby.

That's what Dr. James S. Greene, founder and director of the National Hospital for Speech Disorders says. It leads, he declares, to faulty enunciation in later years on the part of the young hopeful.

Aw, Doc, have a heart!

What would the women-folk do if they couldn't cuddle every new baby and say him was the itty tootsy itty twenty weatuns, ess him was, an' dess haffa love him to pieces, ess would.

The scene: The happy parents, the baby, the relatives, and the neighbor who follows Dr. Green's advice. The neighbor advances. She picks up the squirming babe.

"You are delightful, my dear, I find it causes me great enjoyment thus to hold you in proximity to my person."

Would she be unanimously voted looney? Would she or wouldn't she, Doc, we just ask you that. You reform the women and then the rest of the world will stop the baby talk.

SLAVES OF FASHION

THE haughty stare from the wax figure in the dry goods store window has a purpose. Milady must look serenely proud, that the gorgeous gown or smart frock that graces her superb lines may not be out of harmony.

But all the short-sighted men who have tried to flirt with the wax model will enjoy this one comforting bit of news: The gold but alluring beauty is a slave of fashion, and with the advent of longer skirts she is due to pass, only to be replaced by wax models of newer lines.

Every spring and every fall the wax models go forth from the fashion centers, to be garbed in stores like the local ones with all that is latest and daintiest in the way of personal adornment.

A New York designer has given out the secret. The mannequins have but a brief day of glory. Their unfaded tints, their shapely shoulders, will be sacrificed. Frigid half-smiles on their lips, eyes still frostily gazing to the beyond, they will go into the melting pot, to be made into creatures yet more fair for another fashionable season.

IT REMINDS US

COMMENTING on our statements in reference to Ironton being cut off the Portsmouth professional football schedule, Editor Corns, of the Ironton Register, waxes wroth, and says:

"The Register is strictly opposed to any Ironton team ever playing any team of Portsmouth, but when Portsmouth sought games here we concluded not to oppose them openly. Then Portsmouth, like the River City team, squawked about conditions. We know that Portsmouth has no chance with the Tanks and the games would be a farce if played. We have known that outfit in Portsmouth for thirty years and it has always been the same. 'Real sportsmen'—if anything like real sportsmen ever existed in Portsmouth they have been dead for a half century. The Tanks, instead of being from all over the world are entirely made up from Ironton and Ashland, three players from Ashland being on the team. The Tanks are semi-professionals and like the Portsmouth baseball team of the Ohio State league, are not confined to any given spot for players. Way back in 1893 Portsmouth imported players from Dayton and Springfield in an effort to defeat Ironton, but of course if Ironton has a player or two from Ashland a howl is raised. We advise Ironton against having anything in the world to do with Portsmouth in athletics. It's a big mistake."

Of course being quite a young man ourselves, we cannot be expected to speak as an eye witness of events that happened forty or fifty years ago, like our aged editorial friend up the river. However Editor Corns' declaration that Ironton "should not have anything to do with Portsmouth on the athletic field," following the cut direct from Portsmouth football players, reminds us of the hobo who was first thrown out of a saloon, then kicked out, and finally when he re-entered it for the third time was tossed out through a window. He slowly picked himself up, looked about with an air of bewilderment, then suddenly, with a broad grin, remarked to a spectator, "Bedad, I don't believe they want me in there."

Sometimes when a woman is tried for murder the bandage over the eyes of justice is silk and crepe de chine.

One of the world's troubles is that there is a mental test for soldiers and none for the men who declare wars.

"Ah Miss Duncan does walk around," complains a theatrical weekly. This appears to be a knock at Isadora's gait.

An optimist is one who hasn't missed.

From the results of "don't get hurt" week it appears that what is needed is a "don't get hurt" century.

Mexico protests a lynching in Texas. If this keeps on she may yet refuse to recognize the United States.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, November 29.—It was the birthday party given to a popular stage favorite in an intimate little room splashed with decorations for the event. The guests from the smart Bohemian world came at one o'clock in the morning and remained of course for breakfast.

A brilliant, moving gathering to watch. The composer of the favorite rags hit who four months ago tooted a cornet in a jazz band. His pudgy fingers are now ablaze with diamonds. His flask is monogrammed in colored jewels.

A French singer of rowdy chansons—her hair peeled back like an onion and her ears dripping with heavy ornaments. The editor of a sophisticated monthly, conspicuous for his flowing tie and Cavalier boots. He is accompanied by a premier danseuse.

A pair of Argentine dancers—brother and sister. And an East Side violinist who has just returned from a court performance before the King of Spain. Most of them came from utter obscurity and are riding success with a lash.

The woman in the black smock-like dress is an exponent of Dadaism in art. She wears heavy shoes and smokes a tiny pipe. Her father is a grower of wheat in Kansas. The supremest of the men-about-town. He remains only for the entire. He has three more parties to do that night.

The birthday cake is brought in by four waiters. It gleams with 19 candles. The hostess has a son 14 years of age. Her aunt makes a speech—and from his pocket takes a jeweler's case and presents it to her. The cake is opened, a cigarette case for each man and an ivory bracelet for each lady.

The Greenwich Village Ball this year was called "The Cat's Pajamas." A new experiment in dance music was tried out. A single saxophone played through a large megaphone furnished the jazz.

Joseph Urban, the scenic artist, is perhaps the most consistent coffee drinker in Manhattan. At his office in a moving picture studio the percolator is constantly a-pert. It is his secretary's duty to hand him a demitasse at frequent intervals. He is said to consume at least 40 of these during the day. Urban is a Hungarian who was discovered over on the East Side. He looks less the artist than any man in the city. He is portly, with a ripple of double chin and enormous hands. He is also an incessant smoker. He is a devoted first nighter and has a Weberfieldian accent.

Jack MacMahon, the dramatic critic, tells of a stormy Celt who was having a bad day after the night before. As he was leaving for home he said: "If my wife hasn't dinner ready she is going to get the worst bawling out she ever got. And if it is ready, I'm not going to eat a thing."

The curb comedians along Broadway who always have a fund of deft and ready comedy at their command, are having a rough time these days. What is termed the "comedy squad" from police headquarters are not chasing them around the corner, but picking them up and riding them in a patrol wagon. Traffic on Broadway is becoming impossible and it was necessary to resort to stern measures. The curb comedians are composed mostly of second rate actors who are vainly seeking work and praying they will not find it. (Copyright 1922, By The McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Wifful, Wimsome Woman
She's angel in truth, a demon in fiction.
O, Woman's the greatest of all contradictions:
She's afraid of a cockroach, she'll scream at a mouse.
But she'll tackle a husband as big as a house.

She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse;
She'll split his head open, and then she'll be his nurse.
And when he is well and can get out of bed;
She'll pick up a teapot and throw at his head.

She's faithful, deceitful, keensighted and blind;
She's crafty, she's simple, she's cruel, she's kind;
She'll lift a man up, she'll cast a man down.
She'll call him her king, and she'll make him her clown.

You fancy she's this; but you find she is that;
For she'll play like a kitten, and bite like a cat.
In the morning she will, in the evening she won't,
And you're always expecting she does but she don't.

IF YOU ARE WELL BREW

YOU will not use mannerisms of speech. You will not use a foreign word where its English equivalent will do as well. Neither will you use slang expressions, knowing they are the badge of vulgarly.

You will not interrupt the conversation of another, no matter how brilliant the idea which comes into your head.

And you will not, while in the company of others, draw one person aside to indulge in a whispered conversation.

A Gentle Reminder

An old colored parson was holding a camp meeting in a Southeast Missouri town in July. He held forth thus:

"Bruders and sistahs, I wants to warn yo' against de heinous crime ob shootin' craps, an' fuldermo' I wants to warn yo' against de heinous crime ob stealin' wattermelons."

At this point a ducky in the rear of the tent rose up, snapped his fingers and sat down.
